4. Bus Stops

Highways - Red Hill and QEW, Lincoln Alexander Parkway

Electrical Wires

Cable Boxes, Electrical Boxes

HIGHWAYS are a deterrent..people generally don't want to live
RIGHT NEXT to highways

5.

Centre of City	Suburb
Garage at back	Garage at side
older houses	newer houses
row houses	detached houses
smaller lots	larger lot
closer together houses	houses further apart

6. Often immigrants settle in areas where friends and relatives live. They often share places to live until they are able to rent or buy. With help they can overcome language barriers, find stores that carry familiar food, live near public transit (won't have a car or license), find a job, place of worship. Often, immigrant support centres/programs are located downtown.

7. Could sell more expensive land downtown to developers, and build new factory in suburbs...also newer factories run more efficiently

Linear - in a line - small town, suburb is likely scattered - all over the place - country setting, farmland clustered - super close together - Big City, downtown, urban centre

Population density means how many people are fitting within a defined region, or area. How tightly packed in are all the people?

Population Density = population/area (USUALLY USE SQ KM

There are 500 people in a 2km square region. What is the population density per sq km?

Population Density = Pop./area
= 500/2
=250 people/km²

SITE is the characteristics of THE ACTUAL PLACE that make it desirable or undesirable...

- LANDSCAPE (hills, swamps, lakes)
- TYPES OF LAND USE (Good land for farming, building?)
- High ground for protection?

SITUATION - the conditions AROUND the SITE

- Proximity to other cities, to transportation routes (remember rivers and roads activity)
- Proximity to borders
- and other man made attractions

TYPES OF LAND USE!!!!

RESIDENTIAL - Houses, people RESIDE on RESIDENTIAL land.... Know your house types (Single detached, semi detached townhouse row, lowrise, highrise)
